DETAILED ACTION

Correction

1. The previous office action is re-issued with correction to the restriction requirement previously of record.

Restriction

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-21, 25 drawn to a process for modifying the surface of a workpiece.

Group II, claim(s) 22-24, drawn to a product.

Group III, claim(s) 26-27, drawn to apparatus for cohesively joining at least two work pieces.

Election of Species

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

A: modifying agent at a temperature below about 80 °C (Claim 1)

B: Modifying agent at a temperature above 80 °C (Claims 2-4)

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The inventions listed as Groups I and II as well as the species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding claimed technical features. The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art." (Rule 13.2). The question of unity of invention has been reconsidered retroactively by the examiner in view of the search performed; a review of EP 0163471 makes clear that the claimed special technical feature of modifying a workpiece by treating a workpiece with a modifying agent at a temperature of between 40 and 700 °C is not novel over the prior art. EP '471 teaches on page 13, lines 8-28, the treatment of a metallic wire by heating it to 80 °C, applying a calcium zinc phosphate lubrication solution that is at a temperature of 80 °C.

Furthermore, this reference appears to demonstrate that the technical feature does not define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Thus, lack of unity becomes apparent "a posteriori" after taking the prior art into consideration. Accordingly, the prior art of the record supports restriction of the claimed subject matter in to the groups as mentioned immediately above.
